

love the SKIN YOU are IN

By Sundi Rose • Photos by S. Saxon

LANE
DERMATOLOGY & DERMATOLOGIC SURGERY

Doctors Tanda
and Joshua Lane

In a time when merely being in the sun can cause endless damage and age can be all but reversed, there is a call for qualified and genuine dermatologists. New kids to the Columbus market, Joshua and Tanda Lane, M.D.s of Lane Dermatology & Dermatologic Surgery, emerge on the forefront of technology and training. They believe that quality healthcare must be delivered with concern, the highest of ethical values and personalized attention to the individual patients' needs. The ability to do so comes with a committed dedication to education and training, offering the area's only Mohs fellowship-trained physician. The Doctors Lane feel this is a way to offer patients a superior choice when it comes to dermatologic services.

According to the American College of Mohs Surgery "the Mohs technique is an advanced technique for treating skin cancer and is best performed by a highly trained and experienced surgeon." Joshua Lane is just such a physician. Writing an article with colleague, David E. Kent, M.D. for Current Surgery, he defines the technique as "an outpatient procedure that maximizes surgical margin evaluation while minimizing the amount of tissue that must be excised." Mohs Micrographic Surgery is a process that that will remove all the cancer, minimize the risk of recurrence and leave as little scarring as possible. It is the newest and most effective way to remove cancerous cells and Dr. Joshua Lane is the only fellowship-trained dermatologist in the area.

Not to be out done, wife Dr. Tanda Lane did an internship in general surgery at the Medical College of Georgia in Augusta, a rare qualification to find in a dermatologist. After her internship, she then completed her dermatology

The Mohs technique
is an advanced technique
for treating skin cancer.

residency at Emory University in Atlanta where she was a clinical trial investigator in both psoriasis trials and chemical peels for the treatment of facial dyspigmentation. She will also be holding a monthly clinic at Grady Memorial hospital in Atlanta where she can continue teaching dermatology residents and medical students. While the Doctors Lane specialize in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases that involve the skin, hair and nails, they also offer elective cosmetic services such as Botox, facial fillers, hair removal, laser photo/age rejuvenation and chemical peels. Lane Dermatology & Dermatologic Surgery is especially proud to offer Sculptra. This dermal filler is used to restore facial contour, restoring facial volume and yielding an impressive cosmetic result. No one can provide expert skin care guidance better than a board-certified dermatologist and it is the advice of the Doctors Lane to see one for all skin-care concerns.

Although their practice is new, they have the combined experience and education to provide state-of-the-art care and are intent on cultivating a practice that meets the needs of all their patients. Lane Dermatology & Dermatologic Surgery, with offices in Brookstone Centre is a reliable source for dermatology backed by experience and dedication SVM